"Hubert L. Chaney, Technician 5th Grade, with the 36th Signal Corps Company, for gallantry in action on the night of February 8, 1944, in the vicinity of Cervaro, Italy, assigned to the mission of repairing telephone circuits damaged by enemy action, T-5 Chaney patrolled the lines on foot, under a continual barrage of artillery shells so intense that all other personnel near by remained under cover while he worked. ## Proposed New Municipal Building Here

Here is the architect's conception of the proposed new municipal building for the City of Cameron, drawn by J. E. Johnson and colored by a Fort Worth artist.

Engravers have prepared for Cameron newspapers floor plan cuts in addition to the perspectives. These will be published in the weekly edition.

The proposed municipal building is beautiful in its simplicity and is constructed under suggestions of Mr. Johnson will feature Texas stone, either white or cork colored texture as used in the great San Jacinto Monument at Houston. The new court house in Austin is constructed of the cork colored stone, large quarries of which are located near the capital. The stone is easily worked and because of the economy granite had to be abandoned in the plans.

The Cameron Planning Board

led by Mayor Chas. C. Smith, projects these new buildings as a portion of the comprehensive plan for post war improvements. While the board has made no report some of its activities have been discussed at public meetings. The report when complete will be made to Mayor Smith who created the board and who has met with the board on a number of occasions.

The Planning Board believes some of its most important recommendations will propose self liquidating projects without tax outlay. Financing the cost of the new improvements is being worked out for recommendations within the existing revenues of the present rate.

The Planning Board has looked upon the municipal building as something of a memorial to the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department, plus the pride of a permanent home to housing (turn to page four)

Ben Arnold, Burlington Vogelsang Prepare Cookies for McCloskey

Mrs. F. C. Fahrendorf, chairman of Camp and Hospital Council reports that the ladies from Ben Arnold, Burlington and Vogelsang did a great job last week in preparing cookies for the boys at McCloskey. She delivered between three and four thousand cookies, including an angel food cake. The ladies of these communities also brought flowers. Mrs. Fahrendorf wishes to thank these ladies, and to assure them that what they have done is greatly appreciated, not only by the Camp and Hospital Council, but the sick and wounded look forward to these gifts. There are more than four thousand patients in the Hospital at this time, and more are expected to arrive.

This work must go on for a long time, and Milam county is given a quota just as the other counties. When your time comes to do something for the boys, do it willingly and promptly. In this way the deliveries are made each week on time. If you have no sugar for making cookies and cakes, use syrup or honey. There are many delicious recipes that you do not have to use sugar.

SOUTHWESTERN LIFE MAKES HUGE GAINS

A record investment in savings on the part of Texans is indicated in the forty-second annual report of policyholders of Southwestern Life Insurance Company released here today by C. F. O'Donnell, president, showing the largest business gains in the company's history since 1928.

Insurance in force at the close of 1944 gained $31,709,407 for a total of $481,718,273. Assets now total $108,940,511, a gain of $10,751,769 over assets reported at the close of 1943.

M. O'Donnell announced that the Company had invested more than $50,000,000 in United States government securities since Pearl Harbor. This, he said, was pursuant to the policy of investing all new premium money in such bonds adopted by Southwestern Life Insurance Company at the start of the war.

Mr. O'Donnell's report noted an expanding interest in pension plans in Texas, through which both large and small business enterprises are providing retirement income for their permanent employees. In this connection, he said that since entering this field, the Southwestern Life Insurance Company has underwritten pension business on more than 60 of the 104 plans adopted in Texas.

While military deaths were high, overall statistics compared favorably with the Company's five-year record, due to lower civilian mortality, Mr. O'Donnell said. Death claims paid during the year under policies on persons in the armed forces of the nation amounted to $474,858 and the Company has $65,500 insurance in force on persons reported missing in action, and $25,500 on persons reported as prisoners of war.

Mr. O'Donnell expressed satisfaction with the 1944 production of the local agency, and said that more than 140 members of the Company's agency organization and home office personnel (continued on page four)

A runner for a rifle platoon assaulting strong enemy positions in the Philippines, Infantryman Anderle made several trips afoot under heavy enemy fire, carrying information and receiving orders for his platoon.

Make Your Application Now at the AAA
Office or Contact Your Local Committeemen

The national farm program offers the American farmer his means of security—Conservation for soil security—Loans for price security—and crop insurance for yield security. Crop insurance will take much of the gamble out of cotton growing by guaranteeing farmers at least a minimum crop every year by protecting him against all unavoidable hazards such as drought, boll weevil and other insects, frost, flood, plant disease, storms, hail, wind. It is the farmer's unemployment insurance. The city worker contributes a part of his salary every year to a Federal-State fund of unemployment reserves so he may draw on this fund for an income when he loses his source of income. Crop insurance does the same thing for the farmer. He pays into a Federal fund and in the event he loses his source of income—his cotton crop—he draws upon the Federal Crop Insurance Corp.'s funds for an income. Premiums are most reasonable and farmers are guaranteed either 50 per cent or 75 per cent of the farm's average yield. The insurance becomes effective when the crop is planted and after the application is signed. Farmers owe it to themselves, their families and their communities to be sure of some cotton income every year. Ask your AAA office for complete details.

MARCH 26 LAST DAY FOR CROP INSURANCE

Milam county farmers have until March 26, 1945, to place their 1945 crops of American Upland cotton under protection of the all-risk Federal crop insurance program, according to H. L. Atkinson, Chairman of the County AAA Committee.

Under the new insurance program, farmers will have a choice of two insurance contracts, one providing coverage up to 75 percent of the average field, and the other up to the 50 percent. The insurance provides coverage against crop losses from drouth, floods, hail, wind, frost, winter-kill, wildlife, hurricanes, insects plant disease and other hazards determined by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation to be unavoidable.

Contracts are now being written by county AAA committeemen and other authorized agents in the county, Atkinson said. Contracts must be signed before the crop is planted, and at least 50 applications (or the one-third provision if it applies in the county) must be made before crop insurance becomes effective in the county.

The stage of the cotton crop's development will determine the maximum indemnity to be recovered in the event of loss. If a loss occurs after it's too late to replant to cotton, but prior to the first cultivation, the indemnity would be 40 percent of the maximum insured production. The land, of course, would be released for another crop. Losses occurring after the first cultivation and the end of harvest would be indemnified to the extent of 75 percent of the maximum coverage. Indemnity for losses occurring after harvest but before delivery to the gin would be 100 percent of the maximum coverage. Indemnities payable under the program may be used as collateral security for government-sponsored commodity loans.

"Crop insurance is the only means of protecting crop investments from the innumerable hazards that go with cotton growing," Atkinson explained. "It offers assured production returns from planting to delivery at the gin. It seems to me that most farmers who need returns from their cotton crops, need crop insurance."

the city government and to eliminate the expense of maintaining space for a number of government activities the city is now called upon to house. The new building provides space for all city departments, plus a council chamber, a court room and also a room for the Chamber of Commerce, Airport Executive, and one unassigned room which could be utilized for any one of a number of activities so necessary to the city but which now have no adequate housing.

Mayor Chas. C. Smith whose planning for the future of the city, created the Planning Board, will occupy an office built to facilitate handling of his official duties which adjoins the court room.

Offices are similarly provided for Roy Baskin, City Attorney, Dan Lunsford, City Marshal; Dr. T. E. Crump, Health Officer; and Aldermen will also find accommodations, if their work demands. In fact all city activities are taken care of.

Special emphasis is given the offices of W. H. Stafford, Tax Assessor and Collector; the offices of Dan Tyson, City Secretary and Treasurer where traffic is heavy. For convenience these offices are ultra modern and arranged for the greatest service to the people.

Emphasis is greatest on accommodations for the firemen. The new building will house two of the largest types of fire fighting trucks plus a chemical truck. The resident fireman and his family will have large modern accommodations. The plan as drawn shows cell blocks on the second floor but it has been suggested that this space be utilized for increasing living space for the resident fireman and for other purposes, since the need of jail space is so limited.

Firemen have showers, lockers, quick changing rooms, and even a lounge and club room is provided. Rudolph Richter, President of the Firemen's organization, has expressed delight over these arrangements.

The building is 110 feet long and some 50 feet wide. Its cost will be around $59,000. Plans are to locate it, along with the Memorial Library, Museum and Auditorium building on the city's property known as the park extension on North Fannin and Highway 77. The municipal building face west while the Memorial to the War Dead would face north.

The grounds, spacious enough are to be landscaped and all drive ways for parking are inside the grounds and away from highway and street traffic.

The Sabine Transportation Company is awaiting the construction of this building to erect a memorial fountain to the memory of five Cameron boys who lost their lives in this war in the service of the company.

BAPTIST CHURCH PLANS INTERESTING EASTER PROGRAM

With the slogan, Easter at Home This Year we are making plans to appeal to the best of as many people as possible. This year Easter will mean more to the homes of America than ever before because of the hope and promise it offers to the families who have seen sons and daughters lost in action. For at least one, the significance, meaning, and hope of resurrection—it's assurance of eternal life, will stand out clear and vivid in many homes of our own neighborhood. Churches will be thronged by many seeking comfort and spiritual guidance and our leaders are making plans to rise to the occasion.

As pastor I have tried to bring a vigorous series of messages on the "Battles of Christ" presenting Him as our victorious Master in every message—Christ prepared the disciples for the crisis and test of the hours our hearts and lives need the same strength.

We are challenged by our "Crusade for a Million Souls." Easter Sunday will be planned as a "Day of Dedication to Soulwinning." A census will be taken a systematic program of visitation will be carried through. We are asking every organization including the Junior and Senior Choir to work and pray for a great ingathering of Christians as a climax to the Easter program.

Rev. C. W. Sanders.

S-Sgt. Layne Caldwell Hero of Marine Action In Pacific Campaign

Staff Sgt. Layne C. Caldwell, United States Marines, former pastor of the Marlow Baptist Church, hero of early campaigns in the Pacific, is known as the "fighting parson," and his home community points with pride to his service.

Although an ordained minister, Sgt. Caldwell turned aside from the advantages he could have had as commissioned officer and elected to enlist as a private and a fighting man with the Marines. He rose in rank to Staff Sergeant and spent 23 months in combat in the Pacific, first going down in August 1942, for the invasion of Guadalcanal. His campaigns took him through the Solomons group and the Marshalls.

After returning to the states, he was sent to Klamath Falls, Oregon, to a Marine rest camp to take a well earned respite from the fierce combat experience that saw a small though heroic band of Marines stop cold the Yellow peril that threatened the whole of the Pacific and the homeland of the United States itself. After Pearl Harbor the Japs might have landed at any number of given points on our Pacific coast. Sgt. Caldwell thinks the Jap is stupid and certainly no match for the Marine in combat. When asked about the Japs courage he said "they don't have any guts until you cut 'em open."

Sgt. Caldwell was born in Robertson county. As a young minister he came to Marlow church and there for several years conducted an active pastorate with fine success. When war came he wanted to do his share and so picked the Marines.

He never preached while in service but as minister brought a lot of comfort and spiritual courage to the rugged men who lay in the filthy fox holes and braved the jungle pestilence. Many of them lie buried in the tropics. The Sergeant conducted a number of funerals. One gets the feeling Sgt. Caldwell buried something of himself over there as he laid comrades away with the blessings of religious service.

It was tough a plenty. Sgt. Caldwell was with a Brigade of Marine Raiders. They won the Presidential Unit Citation. He volunteered in 1942. His home is at Franklin and he is 27.

Those who wish to communicate with him at Company I Marine Barracks, Klamath Falls, Oregon.

BRITISH FLEET ENTERS SKAGARAK OFF NORWAY

War news Saturday was highlighted by the announcement that the British home fleet has entered the Skagarak off Norway to clean out the remnants of the German fleet and to secure those waters.

It will be remembered that in World War 1, the great naval battle of Jutland was fought as the British fleet steamed to the Skagarak met the German fleet coming out to the North Sea.

On the Western front General Geo. Patton's Third Army has advanced 35 miles in the most sensational thrust since Normandy. A blackout was ordered on his operations.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardul is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
- 2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardul. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

New Santa Fe Bridge Speeds War Traffic

Santa Fe trains are now rolling across a new double-track steel bridge over the Colorado River near Topock, Arizona, speeding up vital war traffic along the route to Tokyo through California's ports of war.

This new Santa Fe bridge removes the "bottle-neck" created by the old single-track bridge it replaces and has ample strength to take care of future requirements as to weights to be imposed on it.

• The new Topock bridge is an impressive engineering feat, but it is only one step in Santa Fe's program of plant improvement—started long before Pearl Harbor. These improvements have speeded up war traffic today, and they will enable a higher standard of Santa Fe service in the days of peace to come.

... as a great many Texans do ... solve it the economical way with Southwestern Life Insurance ... as many other Texans have.

A Texas executive, successful in business, whose estate had been rapidly expanding, faced a perplexing problem of mounting Federal Estate and State Inheritance Taxes on the estate he had been building for his wife and himself. His problem was to conserve their estate, and yet pay the Federal Estate and State Taxes that would accrue at the death of either husband or wife.

Death claimed his wife first, but he was prepared to meet the more than $40,000 tax bill because he had wisely established a tax emergency fund through Southwestern Life Insurance.

You, Mr. Texan, can establish the same kind of emergency fund for your estate. Now, through Southwestern Life Insurance, you can assure the estate conservation you desire, so that your heirs will not have to sell the bulk of your property to pay Federal Estate and State Inheritance Taxes that one day must be paid. The investment required to establish the plan is nominal. The protective conservation it will give your estate is something you cannot afford to longer delay. Without obligation, call today for a comprehensive analysis of your needs.

PATTON BREAKS INTO THE SAAR BASIN

General George Patton's Third Army has broken through the Saar basin and advanced 12 miles to entrap large German troop displacements.

The Third Army crossed the Moselle river in a mighty offensive on Thursday and at noon Friday was unchecked in its advance in to the Saar last of the German industrial regions yet untouched by the Allied armies.

General Hodges First Army has widened its bridgehead and some troop units have crossed the 6 lane highway leading to Berlin.

Berlin was bombed for the 24th straight night Thursday.

The Germans said at noon the Reds were losing a tremendous artillery attack on the East front and a new offensive for the capital is anticipated.

The fighting has finally ended on Tue.

Thirty American B-29 bombers were forced down on Iwo but all were reported safe.

The Japs are concentrating large forces on the eastern coast of China apparently in expectation of an American landing.

MARRIED

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Woods of Milano have announced the marriage of their daughter, Laura, to Flight Officer Dudley K. Meyer of Chinatown, Calif.

The marriage was solemnized on March 7, 1945, in the home of Mrs. Larue McDonald in the presence of about twenty friends. The bride wore a blue ensemble and was attended by Mrs. McDonald. The groom was attended by R. D. Miller, who served as best man.

The young couple will make their home in Waco, where Flight Officer Meyer is an instructor in the Black Land Army Air Field.

Roasting Fowl

The temperature at which fowl should be roasted depends upon its size. As the weight of the bird increases, the temperature should be lowered and the length of time for roasting or baking increased.

Chicken and duck are best roasted at 350 degrees F., while 325 degrees F. is recommended for geese and for six- to nine-pound turkeys. The time required for roasting will range from an hour and a half or two hours for a four- to five-pound chicken cooked at 350 degrees F., to eight or nine hours for a twenty-four to thirty-pound turkey roasted at 250 degrees F. No lower temperature than 250 degrees F. is recommended.

When the fowl is done, the flesh will be slightly shrunken under the skin, and the bird will give or bend slightly when picked up by the end. The thick portion of the flesh of the breast and thigh of a well-done bird will be tender and will not show pink juice when speared carefully with a skewer or a fork.

There will be a Food Shortage unless

From Victory Garden to Plantation the slogan is: Plant and Produce.

The President has given the nation a frank picture of what the situation is to be on the food front. Clearly it is the duty and privilege of those who are so situated to plant and to cultivate every available acre that Agriculture may again be found not wanting in the demands of war.

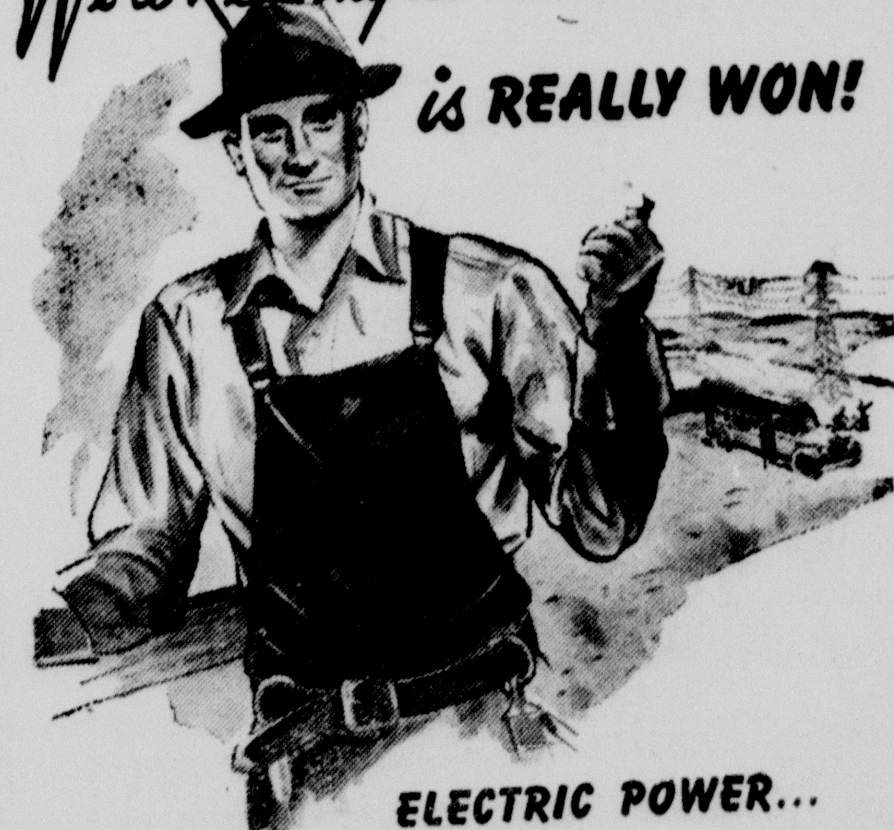

Despite labor shortage the Farmer will do his share as he has always done, even under adverse conditions.

Lt. James T. Terry Arrives in France

Friends of Lt. James T. Terry will be glad to learn that he has arrived safely in France. His wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Terry received the message this week.

Lt. Terry has been with the Armed forces since July, 14, 1942. He has been discharging the duties of an officer most of the time, at various camps in the States. He served for more than two years with the Coast Artillery-Anti Aircraft Unit. For the past six months he has been with the Infantry, graduating in August at Fort Benning, Ga.

Lt. Terry received his Bachelor of Science degree from Texas A & M College in the year 1936, majoring in Horticulture. He declined the offer of a scholarship to Louisiana State University in order to continue Military Science and tactics, at Fort Crockett, Galveston immediately after graduation from A. M. College.

At the time Lt. Terry entered the service he was employed by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as performance Supervisor, including the Milam county area.

Mr. and Mrs. Siegrud Wolle of Buckholts are in Galveston where their 7 month old baby son is seriously ill in John Sealy Hospital.

Ceiling Prices on Alcohol Beverages Must Be Posted

All eating or drinking establishments which serve beer and other alcoholic beverages for consumption on the premises soon will be required to post Official OPA ceiling price Charts, listing their established ceiling prices for these drinks, Houston District OPA officials announce.

Two posters will be provided, one for beer and other malt beverages and another for other alcoholic drinks. They must be posted in all establishments by April 16, district officials said.

VITAMIN B

In their raw or original state most plant and animal foods contain some of the B vitamins, but only a few foods contain very much. Some foods are relatively rich in one B, some in another. For special mention there are lean pork, liver and kidney and other meat organs, whole grains, dried beans and peas, soybeans and nuts—particularly peanuts. Other foods that supply B vitamins include lean meats, eggs, milk, vegetables and fruits. Under the government's enrichment program synthetic riboflavin, thiamine, niacin and iron are added to bread.

MRS. LINDA COLLINS IS BURIED AT BEN ARNOLD

Funeral services for Mrs. Linda Collins were held at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday at Ben Arnold Baptist church. Rev. C. W. Sanders, Pastor of First Baptist Church in Cameron, conducted the services. Interment was made in the cemetery at Ben Arnold with the Green Funeral Home directing arrangements.

Mrs. Collins, 64, died at her home in Cameron at 8:30 a. m. Monday, March 19, 1945. She had been ill for several months. Her death was sudden, despite her illness and came as a shock to her loved ones and friends.

Mrs. Collins had been a resident of the Ben Arnold community for a greater portion of her life. She came to Cameron five years ago to make her home.

Surviving are one son, J. D. Collins of Waco, two daughters, Mrs. McElvath of Grand Prairie and Mrs. Hal Clifton of Cameron. Seven grand children survive.

Potato Storage

The home garden potato crop may be kept in any number of ways, such as a windowed corner of the basement partitioned off for temperature regulation and darkened, a garage, a closet or unheated room in the house, or in a partly buried barrel covered over with straw or leaves and soil. Boxes and barrels are better than baskets for stored potatoes, since they help to keep down shriveling and protect them better against light, which causes green spots.

Cpl. Guy E. Chandler Fortress Gunner, Sees Action Over Europe

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION, England—Entering aerial combat for the first time, Cpl. Guy E. Chandler, 19 year old B-17 Flying Fortress tail gunner from Cameron, recently participated in an Eighth Air Force assault on the key marshalling yards at Crailsheim—an attack intended to disrupt the smooth flow of supplies to the Nazi troops battling the Allied thrusts both on the Eastern and Western fronts.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Chandler of Cameron, the Texas airman was assigned to combat after completing a long period of training in the United States and at his present station, where he received advanced tactical training in high altitude formation flying, first aid to wounded crewmen, communications and crash landing procedures.

Cpl. Chandler is a member of the 447th Bomb Group, which is co-ordinating most of its bombing attacks with Allied ground offensives both in Eastern and Western Europe. The group is a member of the Third Air Division, the division that was cited by the President for the now historic England-African shuttle bombing attacks on the Messerschmitt factories at Regensburg, Germany.

A 1943 graduate of the Yoe High School, Cpl. Chandler entered the Army Air Forces in November, 1943. He received his gunner's wings in July, 1944, at Las Vegas, Nev.

Capt. D. R. Criswell Writes From Headquarters Along Burma Road in China; Praises Chinese; Christmas Program Features Good Will Toasts

Capt. D. R. Criswell of Buckholts, has written his mother, Mrs. D. R. Criswell, Sr., from his headquarters somewhere along the Burma Road in China.

The letter tells of the co-operation his unit is getting from the Chinese on important military construction. Also he tells of a Christmas dinner and toasts of good will on Christmas eve. The letter follows:

ALONG THE BURMA ROAD IN CHINA, Jan. 10, 1945.—Have been here in China about six weeks now and our pipeline work has progressed rapidly. I didn't think we could go through these mountains so fast. Our good progress though has been greatly due to the excellent labor of the Chinese. Everywhere we lay the pipe line we use native labor to do the carrying of pipes, etc., to points inaccessible to vehicles and we've never had any natives to work like the Chinese.

The Chinese are great farmers too. They don't work a lot of land but that they do work is cared for to the last square inch.

We've been purchasing about 70 percent of our food supplies from the Chinese and we are really faring better than at any time since I've been overseas. We have an abundance of fresh eggs, beef, pork, potatoes, peas, cabbage, cauliflower, tangerines and walnuts. Also purchase their flour made of wheat or rice. We are supplied with funds by Army finance and one of the Companies Officers makes the purchases from the local villages on market day.

Every village has market day once every four days and at that time everyone goes to market and everyone carries something to market and about 11 a. m. everyone has arrived and trading goes forward briskly until about four p. m. By then the pigs, goats, cows, oxen (water-buffalo), chickens, ducks, geese, eggs, vegetables and many other items have exchanged hands once or more, some for money and some just outright swapping. It is all so reminiscent to Mother Goose. "To Market, to Market to buy a fat pig;" "Simple Simon Met a Pieman." They can all be found at the market.

On Christmas eve all the officers and sergeants of the company were feasted at the Common Education Building by the Magistrate of the village nearby to our camp. There were six large round tables in the second story big room where we dined. At the center table were seated the Magistrate, the minister of construction, a Chinese engineer and his wife and an interpreter and the Magistrate's daughter, and the company officers. An equal number were seated at the other tables.

About two and a half hours of time were consumed in much food that was prepared to a perfection. More than twenty different kinds of food were served: beef, pork, duck, wild pheasant, cheese, potatoes, lotus roots, were some of the items. Everything was very tasty and nicely served. A big round platter of food would be placed in the center of the table and everyone would help his small bowl to a portion of the food with chopsticks and we all did surprisingly well with the chopsticks.

During the course of the meal the Magistrate gave a very good talk in Chinese translated into English by the interpreter. His speech was followed by a toast. I made a response to the Magistrate's speech.

Toasting then became quite popular and we drank toasts to F. D. R., Chiang Kai-shek, our alliance and many other things and persons. All the toasting was done with a Chinese wine made of rice and tangerines and I don't know what else. Before the feast was over we sang Christmas Carols to the Chinese and they in turn sang Chinese songs.

How to Greet a Wounded Soldier

Charlie Jenkins got back from overseas the other day, discharged for wounds... and he was pretty well banged up.

Naturally, our town felt mighty bad about it. We wanted to sympathize with him and help him. But Doc Walters set us straight about that.

He said that what Charlie wanted most was to be accepted as one of the gang again... as if nothing had happened. So we asked him over to pitch horseshoes with his good hand, and enjoy a friendly glass of beer and chew the fat like old times.

And you should have seen him pick up! From being scared of meeting people, Charlie got his confidence back and soon became his own self again.

From where I sit, Doc Walters gave us the right steer. The wounded men coming home don't want our sympathy or our overenthusiastic help. They want to be treated like the rest of us... with a chance to work and lead a normal life. And that's the least we can offer them.

The graduating class of War Bond College in 1954

There's no such college, of course. But you get the idea.

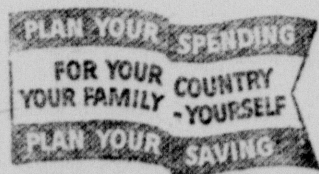

Take that good-looking boy, third from the left, in the last row. That's Paul White. He's only 11 years old today. Ever since the war began, his parents have been buying War Bonds regularly. When the time comes, some of those bonds will pay his tuition, will make it possible for him to begin a college education which will end with "B.A." after his name.

It hasn't been easy for the White family to buy War Bonds. The knowledge that they were helping their Country and their boy at the same time inspired their saving. They worked it out with pencil and paper. Every pay day, regular as clock work, they put money in their bank account. At regular intervals, they bought War Bonds out of their savings. And at the end of 10 years—well—it would do your heart good to see the happy smiles on Mother's and Dad's faces at commencement time.

$3 plus $1 equals $4. Sounds like grade school days, doesn't it? It also describes what happens when you buy War Bonds. You put up $3 and Uncle Sam gives you back $4 in ten years. But you get more than this. You have the satisfaction of knowing that you are helping your Country when it needs your help most. And as you buy War Bonds regularly you are launched on a plan for saving which will permit you to plan your spending at that future time when your dollars will be able to buy more.

Help the nation's efforts to keep your living costs DOWN, the buying power of your dollar UP.

McCULLIN MAPS OUT CHAMBER PROGRAM

A. W. McCullin, President of the Chamber of Commerce, in accepting the place here Tuesday night, outlined a program of activities for the year and named a number of committees.

Special emphasis will be given development of agriculture with specialized engagements to encourage some of the commercial needs for a greater farm economy. Poultry and livestock will get major consideration in a number of things proposed for the year.

John B. Henderson heads the strong Agriculture Committee and definite program is in prospect to be announced at the next regular meeting.

The Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with other clubs and civic organizations will begin an intensive civic campaign. Mr. McCullin is responsible for this phase of activities. A face lifting in the business section is in prospect with painting and remodeling of store fronts. This plan will be worked out and the co-operation of store owners will be sought. This committee is headed by Dr. C. G. Swift who is a member of the Planning Board.

J. B. White, will have the chairmanship of the Publicity and entertainment committee and Mr. McCullin has in mind a vigorous program of publicity on all activities of the Chamber.

A new activity which in the months to come will be most important to returning veterans whom the community owes everything. This committee to be known as the Veteran's Committee will be headed by R. A. Michalka, war veteran No. 1. This committee will especially co-operate with the County Service Officer, Jess Thompson and the U. S. Employment Service to place returning veterans. A survey will be made on local man power needs.

Max Howard who is the First Vice President, heads the important Highways and Roads Committee. At present the committee will map plans for a good system of farm to market roads and file with the Highway Department through the Commissioners' Court of the County Planning Board a maximum demand for improvements.

The Airport Committee will be headed by P. W. Davis and also J. R. Hays will be on the committee. They worked on this project and were responsible in large measure for the purchase of the field made by the city.

E. C. Cole will call a meeting of the membership and Finance Committee to bring all business and professional men in to the Chamber.

Good Friday Services To Be Held March 30

At high noon the entire community is invited to the Methodist church where the ministerial and choral leaders of the community working together will carry out a three hour program built around the Seven Last Scenes of Our Lord's life prior to the Resurrection.

For a number of years the people have observed with devotion and dedication this period. All over town the people have been co-operative and gracious and this has been expressed by the willingness to close their place of business and attend the meeting with their fellow town's people.

C. W. Sanders.

G. N. Elmore was a Cameron visitor on Saturday.

Joe Moore, Baseball Great Visits City; Is Pondering Future

Joe Moore of Gause, one of the immortals of the diamond, was visiting in Cameron Thursday. His mother is in Cameron Hospital and friends will be glad to know she is doing well.

Joe is pondering the future somewhat. He does not know whether he will play baseball again. He played ten years, lacking two months, with the New York Giants in the National League. At present he is owned by the Indianapolis Club in the American Association which was stronger than either major leagues last year. He was sold to the Philadelphia Athletics in 1943, but due to his draft status could not report for duty.

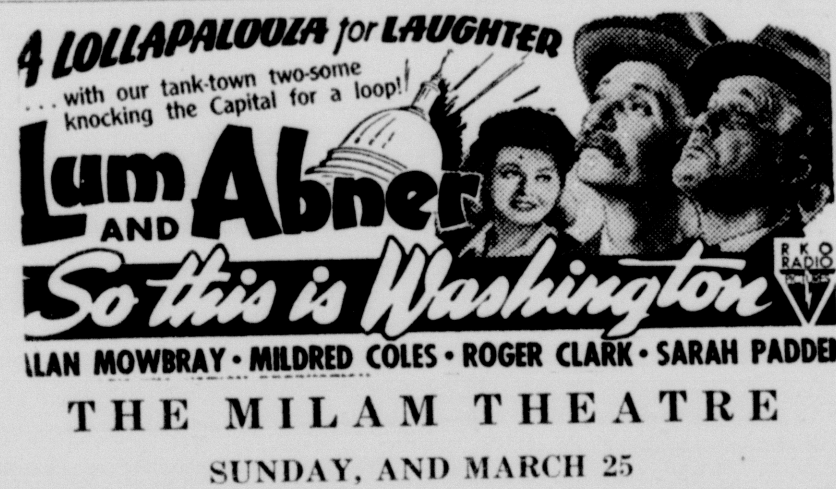

Washington Senators.

Joe was a fabulous find in baseball history. He said he had never mentioned some phases of his jump to national stardom before. He is very modest and likes to talk of other great players, like Carl Hubbell who spent some time on Joe's Ranch at Gause. Joe was playing with Coleman in the West Texas League when that club folded up. He wrote Del Patt of the Waco Club and also wrote the San Antonio Club. He did not hear from Pratt but in two days had a contract with the Brones. In about 2 months Joe was sold to the New York Giants for a large sum of money, which rivaled the price paid for any Texas star in baseball history.
